PRESIDENT-ELECT SENDS GREETINGS

HAS FAITH IN SCHOOL

Northwest Missouri's State Teachers' College Can Become Pre-Eminent in Its Class, He Says

"All of us should sooner or later realize that the welfare of America depends upon the proper education of boys and girls. Her safety depends upon the proper development of the educational system in the small town and in the country. The success of any educational system depends upon the right kind of teachers properly trained.

"I see no reason why the Northwest Missouri State Teachers' College cannot be pre-eminent among such institutions in the country, provided it has the united support of the people of Northwest Missouri."

This is the statement of President-elect U. S. Lamkin in answer to a telegram from the Democrat-Forum informing him of his selection by the Board of Regents and inviting him to send a greeting to the people of the district where he will soon begin his work.

The new president has not yet set the date of his coming to Maryville. Other than expressing confidence in the future development of the State Teachers' College, he had no statement to make concerning policies.

After leaving the state superintendent of schools in Missouri, Mr. Lamkin was six months as district vocational officer in St. Louis, in charge of the rehabilitation of disabled soldiers in the states of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska. He went to Washington as field agent for the central office there and became chief of the division of rehabilitation on September 13, 1919.

On July 1, 1920, he was elected director of the federal board for vocational education, having administrative charge of the three divisions, namely vocational education, soldier rehabilitation and rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry.

TELLS OF PUEBLO AFTER THE FLOOD

LETTERS DEPICT LIFE IN LIGHT-LESS, FIRELESS CITY.

PEOPLE NOT COMPLAINING

All They Want Is Law, Order and Cleanliness—Mrs. N. C. Covey and Mrs. J. P. Johnson Write.

Box cars floating in the largest department stores, street cars on the tops of buildings, eight feet of mud in the lobby of one of the principal hotels and a three-room house where the bank of Pueblo once stood: this is the picture of the flood swept Colorado city painted by Mrs. N. C. Covey in a letter to her mother, Mrs. Isabel Worst.

Mr. and Mrs. Covey formerly lived in Maryville, leaving here about three years ago. Mr. Covey was at one time county treasurer. Three sons, Charles, Dewey and Jamie are with them in Pueblo.

The building in which James F. Johnson, son of Judge and Mrs. W. L. Johnson, is engaged in business in Pueblo was ruined by the flood. A letter received from Mrs. Johnson today says:

"I cannot describe the situation and loss of life and property. The loss will reach many millions of dollars and hundreds of lives. Whole sections are gone.

Water Eleven Feet Deep.

"The water was eleven feet deep on Union Avenue. Merchants are not complaining, just trying to get law and order and clean up. We are safe and whole. Business is damaged, but we have another building rented to start up in.

"The levees broke in three places, caused by the dam breaking and the cloudburst. The city is under martial law, troops here. Plenty to eat. No lights, gas, phones, and no water on the North Side.

"Many building on Union Avenue are gone and others collapsed. Words cannot describe it; only the eye can see for itself."

Mrs. Covey's description of the flood is as follows:

Train Turns Over.

"Some experience a flood is. It began raining and storming Thursday, and the river was up to the floor of the bridges Friday afternoon. Then the levee broke, and the cloudburst came, and away went everything. The water spread clear to Union station and up to the tops of the box cars. Stock were drowned and one trainload of passengers turned over, and such a wreck as it shows up.

"The river tore down Union Avenue and totally swept it away; on down through town, and a box car swept through. The Pueblo's largest furniture store, and White and Davis (department store) was all wiped out, and the building is tottering. Crews-Beggs' (department store) Basement was full and half of the first floor. Three banks are gone, and the flood went up past the post office, where the mail sacks were washed every which way.

"A three-room house stands on the corner of Third and Main, where White and Davis and the Bank of Pueblo and all those drug stores were. Cars are on tops of buildings, street cars upside down, and it will be sixty days before we can have car service.

Cooks With Chafing Dish.

"We have had no gas, light or city water since Friday night. You would be surprised how I can cook for five of us on a chafing dish and coffee in my percolator. My wood alcohol got pretty low and the folks hunted a long time, but they bought a quart, so now I can cook.

"Our men happened to be on this side of the river, and so we were all together, but it has been awful for the ones that got separated. So many had gone to town and picture shows and wouldn't listen to reason and then couldn't get across.

"We had a basement full of water, so I can't have a fire in the furnace. Wool stockings and serge dress and wool sweater feel good.

"The rain keeps falling, and that causes the river to rise. Of course the bridges are unsafe, so only those can cross who have urgent business.

Boys on Patrol Duty.

"Our boys have done patrol duty ever since the flood, but the soldiers got in last night, so they are helping dig mud out of the Vail Hotel. It had eight feet of mud and water in the lobby. Dewey is helping dig the street car barns out and guard their property, and I just mess around and go sight seeing.

"It is grand to live on the Mesa, where it is high and dry. This morning the steel works turned their water into the mains for a while, so I cleaned with it, but we drink rain water. The sun shines every few hours a little while, so if it quits raining the water will go down and things dry out.

"There is plenty to eat, and Trinidad and Salt Lake are sending relief trains, and all the thousands of refugees are well cared for. Mrs. Miles has twenty-six refugees in her house the first night, and Mr. Miles about finished his Buick car in rescuing people. People have been wonderful and generous. We have plenty of canned food, coffee, flour, etc., to do us a week yet, so we are fine."

Mrs. B. E. Condon heard today for the first time since the flood from a sister, Mrs. Wallace Hill, who lived near the flooded district but who passed through the catastrophe safely. Mr. Hill, a contractor, was not in the city at the time, his business having taken him into the mountains. Mrs. Hill's letter was written Tuesday, but did not give many details.

STATE ROAD BILLS READY FOR SESSION

COMPLETE PLAN TO BE INTRODUCED AT SPECIAL SESSION.

FOR 6,000 MILE SYSTEM

Legislation Drafted by Senator Ralph Is a Hard Surface Proposal and Bars Dirt Road.

St. Louis, June 10.—Senator Richard A. Ralph of St. Louis County, chairman of the senate committee on roads and highways, has prepared for introduction at the special session of the legislature, which convenes in Jefferson City Tuesday, bills providing a complete plan for the building of a state system of connected hard surfaced roads under the 60 million dollar bond issue voted last November. The plan is distinctly a hard surface highway scheme and specifically bars the dirt road from participation in the bond issue expenditures.

In the main it is the Wisconsin plan, which Ralph and other members of the legislature studied in detail six weeks ago on a tour of other states investigating road conditions.

Commission of Three Members.

There is created a commission of three members to be appointed by the governor for four years and to be paid $10 a day each for time actually employed.

A "hard surfaced road" is defined to be a "road surfaced with gravel, macadam or other suitable materials approved by the commission; an earth road shall not be considered a hard surfaced road."

All road projects approved by the present commission shall be completed as planned.

The chief engineer, who must have had five years' practical experience in the construction and maintenance of hard surfaced roads, shall be appointed by the commission. He shall appoint other employees with approval of the commission.

No Salaries are Fixed.

No salaries, except for members of the commission, are fixed, the commission being given power to fix all salaries.

Members of the commission and all employees are prohibited from having "pecuniary interest" in the sale of road or bridge building material, tools, machinery or supplies and in any contract for the construction of roads or bridges.

A "state highway" is defined as a "highway constructed or maintained at the cost of the state, or for which the state has paid a part of the cost of construction and which has been included in the state highway system."

Proposes 6,000-Mile System.

A state-wide connected system of hard surfaced roads of approximately six thousand miles is proposed, extending into each county, to be located, acquired, constructed, reconstructed, improved and forever maintained as public roads and the necessary grading, bridges and culverts therefore shall be

COUNTY'S CROPS IN BEST OF CONDITION

CORN PLANTED LATE BUT IS GROWING RAPIDLY

CAN STAND MORE RAIN

Need Is Not Immediate But There Is No Reserve Supply of Moisture —Cutting Alfalfa Now.

Nodaway County will produce a bumper crop of corn this year if weather conditions continue favorable, says R. A. Kinnaird, county farm agent, who has been in all parts of the county recently inspecting the work of the boys' and girls' pig club. Corn was planted late but is looking fine now and growing rapidly.

Other men whose business takes them by automobile over this and adjoining counties say that farmers of Nodaway County are keeping their corn clean of weeds and that their methods are generally superior to those of farmers elsewhere.

"The farmers are keeping their crops good and clean," says the county agent. "Corn might have been a little bit earlier, but it is in first class condition. Some of it was replanted after the first planting was beaten down or washed out by the early rains, but the added cultivation has helped to kill the weeds. Considering the time it was planted, corn could hardly be better."

Alfalfa cutting is now going on some farms. Fair yields are reported. Blue grass pastures are short for this time of the year.

Oats are in good condition, but wheat is not as good as it might be. Some of it is badly rusted, because of the early cold, wet weather. The Hessian fly has been discovered in some fields, but it cannot be eradicated until the fall breeding season.

On the J. K. Sawyers farm, across the road from the Albert Watson farm, nine blue grass strippers are at work. A few other farmers are also harvesting the seed.

Recent light rains have been of great value to all crops. While the county is not suffering for rain, more and heavier falls would be welcomed. There is as yet no reserve supply of moisture in the ground and a prolonged drought might prove disastrous. A soaking rain followed by warm weather would assure a big harvest next month.

MEN'S CLASS FIGHTING TO HOLD SMALL LEAD

Rivalry Between Maryville and Clarinda Grows Hotter as End of Contest Nears.

With only four Sundays remaining before the end of the contest, members of the Men's Class of the First Christian Church are starting a final drive to increase their small lead over their Clarinda rivals.

Weather permitting, a meeting will be held tonight on East Third Street. A band of enthusiastic workers for the Men's Class will be accompanied by their band and there will be singing and a few snappy talks. Ed Gray, president of the class, Ellis Cook and W. E. Goforth are the speakers.

The Clarinda class is working hard to "save their honor." Next Sunday they will meet on the courthouse lawn. Serenading parties of singers will cover the town in the morning to rouse late sleepers.

Both classes have set their goal for next Sunday at 300 members, 300 on time and 50 new members, for a total of 1,000 points. A blunder was made in the Clarinda report last week, but the number unfairly counted will be deducted from future reports.

The Men's Class here will have charge of a special service at the church on Sunday night, June 19. The class will meet at the tent and march in to the church to the section reserved for them. The class will be responsible for the program and a men's chorus will lead the music.

FIGHTERS ENTER MOST CRITICAL TRAINING PERIOD

Corbett Says Dempsey and Carpenter Must Be Carefully Handled in Next Ten Days.

By James J. Corbett
Former World's Heavyweight Champion.

(Written Expressly for the International News Service.)

Copyright, 1921 by the International News Service.

New York, June 11.—Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey have just entered what I consider the most critical period of their training for the big battle at Jersey City, July 2.

Between now and June 20 both fighters must be carried along carefully and the manner in which they are handled, may during the next ten days, will mean a lot.

After June 20, it will be the aim of their trainers, having built them up to a certain point of physical fitness to prime them for the big fight.

Dempsey and his rival are both in very fine physical condition today. They have reached the point where it would be very harmful to do too much or too little work, though the chance of overtraining is the most dangerous.

This is where the value of a trainer who knows his man comes in. And from what the fighters have done within the last few days I imagine that Kearns and Desamps have both entertained fears that their proteges might overstep the limit.

Carpentier has not expended any great amount of exertion in the presence of reporters, it is true, but he has been working very hard in private.

And to say nothing slight cut Jack Dempsey received over his eye Sunday came as more of a blessing than anything else, for it was not serious and it gave the champion a chance for a respite from too much boxing.

Dempsey's schedule of boxing in public every day makes his handling more difficult than Carpentier's for no matter how fast or slow a pace he sets with his sparring partners, he expends energy and what is more he boxes in the full glare of the boiling sun.

At Carpentier's camp the ring is pitched behind a barn in the shade of big trees and Georges gets most of his sunning on the road in the early morning. It is noticeable that he has so far failed to show what might be called even a fair coat of tan and as he is naturally fair skinned this is unusual.

One more thing is very essential in connection with the handling of both fighters from now until they enter the ring and that is the nursing of their mental attitudes. Dempsey, according to all reports and certainly when I last saw him, has exhibited the best nature of any heavyweight champion who ever trained for such an important battle. Carpentier, though usually cool and self-possessed, has shown several flashes of nervous temperament though for the most part his ready smile has been easily provoked. Keeping these two lads in a happy frame of mind means almost as much as whipping them into just the right physical pitch.

Ingenious Vessel for the Congo

This amphibious cargo boat is the invention of Robert B. Goldschmidt, a Belgian millionaire noted for his mechanical ingenuity, and is designed for use in the Belgian Congo, on the Congo river. Where the water becomes too shallow for navigation, it slides up on a mono-rail and travels rapidly along under its own power, thus obviating the many portages now necessary in transporting goods along that important artery of African trade. It is driven by motors fed with palm oil.

FAVORITES WIN MATCHES IN MIXED DOUBLE PLAY

William Mapel and Ora May Condon to Meet Paul Pickens and Ruth Miller in Semi-Finals.

"Fast Tennis" is the only way to express the playing in the first round of the mixed doubles that was played at the college yesterday afternoon. In these matches, Earl Bland and Helen Miller defeated Paul Miller and Wave Hulet 6-4 6-3; Paul Pickens and Ruth Miller won from Charles Wells and Ellen Mitchell 6-4 5-7 6-3; and William Mapel and Ora May Condon defeated Earl Duncan and Lola Craner 6-1 6-1. All of these matches were fast and were hotly contested and some very good playing was displayed.

This afternoon Pickens and Miss Miller will meet Mapel and Miss Condon in the semi-finals. The winner of this match will meet Bland and Miss Miller, who received a bye, in the finals. From now on the sets are all expected to be fast and close as all of the teams are out to win.

The Mapel-Condon combination is the one that won the mixed doubles tournament in the spring quarter. Ruth Miller, of the team that opposes them this afternoon, was girls' champion of Maryville High School and champion of Northwest Missouri, and Pickens can play fast tennis. Earl Bland of the team which will play the winner in the finals was boys' singles champion at the College last summer, and his mate, Helen Miller, was champion of Hopkins High School and runner-up to her cousin in the high school tournament here this spring.

PROFITEERS IN FRANCE, TOO

War Relics Bought for $3 Sold for 3,000 Francs Each

Paris, June 10.—Thirty-five francs, or less than $3 apiece—such is the price at which the French Government has been selling British tanks which he out along the Chemin des Dames. Most of them are damaged, but as old iron it is thought they would realize at least $600. The tanks are scattered around the Fort de la Pompelle, which has been classified as a historical monument. When the Rhems Reconstruction Society heard that it was proposed to sell the tanks it offered to buy two to be kept as mementos of the fierce battle which raged around the fort. The Society was referred back to the contractor who had bought the tanks in the first place. He sold two tanks for 3,000 francs. The price was accepted and it was only much later that the society heard that the contractor had bought the tanks at

EXPLAINS PLAN OF GRAIN MARKETING

U. S. GRAIN GROWERS, INC., ENTERS MISSOURI

TO ATTACK SPECULATION

Organization Is Farmer-Owned and Farmer Controlled and Has $100,000,000 Capital

Kansas City, Mo., June 10.—Grain growers of Missouri and Kansas are to be given an opportunity to support the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., plan for co-operative marketing of the grain crops of America. This plan is the outgrowth of the recommendations made by the Farmers' Marketing Committee of Seventeen. The announcements that the plan is to be introduced into Missouri and Kansas was made here last week by C. H. Gustafson, president of the organization, following two days' conference with representatives of farmers' cooperative and other farmer organization of the two states.

Fifty trained fieldmen met here Monday. They will be schooled in the general plan of organization and operation of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc. The school will be conducted by Judge P. E. Donnell of Waco, Missouri and H. W. Avery of Wakefield, Kansas, and R. C. Olmsted of Topeka, Kansas. These men are members of the board of directors of the U. S. Grain Growers, representing their respective states, and they will be in direct charge of the organization work.

The work of signing contracts between local co-operative elevators and the parent corporation will be the first undertaken. As soon as that is completed, the fieldmen will make a canvass of grain growers and individuals will be signed for memberships. The entire plan hinges on these contracts, P. E. Donnell said. Briefly the growers contract to deliver their product to their local co-operative elevator under any one of a number of options and then the co-operative elevator contracts to market the grain through the central sales agency.

All of the legal aspects of the plan will be explained in detail to the solicitors at the school here next week. The men will be schooled in the underlying fundamentals of the plan. As a guarantee to farmers against being victimized by unauthorized agents, the U. S. Grain Growers have worked out an identification card system and each fieldman will be supplied with a card on which is a copy of his picture together with the seal and signatures of the officers of the organization.

There is a rapidly growing sentiment in favor of the plan, Judge Donnell said. "The various farm organizations in Missouri, particularly, have expressed a desire to give this plan their support. The U. S. Grain Growers is so gigantic a project that the board of directors has moved slowly in order to leave nothing undone."

"Now, however, our finance corporation, with a capital stock of $100,000,000 has been organized and we are ready to do business. Contrary to the general opinion, this great finance corporation will not in any way supplant existing financial institutions, but will assist banks in financing grain movements from farm to market in an orderly manner."

Heretofore, this has been impossible in many instances and grain growers have been forced to dump their products on the market, helter skelter, within 90 days after the harvest with disastrous results to the producer.

The U. S. Grain Growers is a farmer-owned and farmer controlled organization to which only grain growers can belong. It is not operated for profit nor is it intended to serve as an agency for boosting prices to the ultimate consumer. The only people we expect to hurt are the grain gamblers and middle-men.

Pure-Breds Do Pay

That pure-bred livestock is a safe, profit-bringing investment for any farmer has long been the conviction and the message of the great national weekly of farm progress,

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

In a widely discussed recent series it pointed out, with merciless publicity, dangerous evil practices among certain breeders and distributors of pure-breds. Next week in a constructive article, it tells the general farmer how, in spite of these practices, he can profitably stock up with pure-breds NOW.

William Johnson writes the story. For several months he has been traveling all about the country, interviewing leading breeders and livestock farmers and gathering material for a message that will be helpful to everyone who raises animals. His able, concretely suggestive story deserves your attention.

In the same way other investigators are continually searching out the practices that pay in every other branch of farming. Each week their stories help 800,000 readers. What pure-breds are to farm livestock THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is to farm literature—the best, the safest, the most profitable.

Public Funeral for Two Heroes of Washington

Crowds at the Sylvan theater on the monument grounds at Washington, when the public funeral was held over the bodies of Vincent B. Costello and Hiram E. Cash, in honor of all Washington heroes who died in the World war. The services were attended by Vice President Coolidge, General Pershing, the district commissioners and other government and city officials.

WILL D. BISHOP, FORMER COUNTY OFFICER, DIES

Brother of Mrs. William Job Was Cashier Colony State Bank Colony, Kansas.

Will D. Bishop, a former Maryville resident and brother of Mrs. William Job, Sr., living near here, died at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home at Colony, Kan. His death followed several months' illness and an operation which he underwent last January at Kansas City.

Funeral services will be held at Colony tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Job will be unable to attend the services. She visited him while he was at the hospital in Kansas City, and recently visited him at his home at Colony.

At the time of his death, Mr. Bishop was cashier of the Colony State Bank. He was born near Montrose, Iowa, on January 19, 1867. When he was four years old his mother died, leaving three small children, Clara, now Mrs. William Job, Sr., Will D. and Frank, a babe, who was adopted by an uncle. Clara cared for her brother Will, and kept house for her father, until his death four years later.

The father was a farmer, and in order to reach the market either at Keokuk, or Fort Madison, it was necessary for him to leave home near midnight. The two children were afraid to remain in the house, it being near the railroad and tramps numerous, and much of the time would take their blankets and hide out in the field until daylight. After the father's death, Clara, kept her brother, Will, with her, bought his clothing and sent him to school.

They came to Nodaway County in the spring of 1881, with Chas. D. Lefler, and family, and remained with the family, until 1884, when Clara was married to William Job, Will made his home with them, going to school in the winter, and working for farmers in the summer, until he was 20 years of age, when he was employed as a clerk in the dry goods store of Saunders and Son, and soon after married Miss Lillie Hefflin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Hefflin. He remained in the employ of Saunders and Son until he was elected Township Collector of Polk Township. During his term of office, he and Howard Johnson formed a partnership in the Livery business. When they disposed of their business, he was deputy sheriff under Mack Pixler, engaging with Dr. H. E. Moss in the drug business which they traded for land near Colony, Kansas.

Mr. Bishop was then appointed deputy county clerk by Miles Nicholas, and at the expiration of his term of office he moved to Colony and engaged in farming. He formed a partnership in the Real Estate business with J. H. Burnett, formerly of Nodaway County, and a brother of Henry

Burnett, who was at one time prosecuting attorney of this county. At the time of his death he was cashier of the Colony State Bank, and had accumulated considerable property, he has never taken his membership from Magnolia Camp, No. 8 W. O. W. Maryville, of which camp he has served both as Clerk and Council Commander.

He leaves a wife, Mrs. Lillie Hefflin Bishop, one sister, Mrs. William Job, of near Maryville, one brother, Frank Bishop, of Mena, Arkansas, and one nephew and niece, children of an older brother, Ed Bishop who died thirty-five years ago.

RECEIVES MORE GARMENTS FOR ORPHANED CHILDREN

Volunteer Service Helps to Relieve Distress in Europe Through American Red Cross.

Contributions have been coming in rapidly to the Volunteer Service for Orphaned Children of Europe, according to Miss Betty Turner of the Red Cross. Nodaway county has a quota to meet, and committees have been named to see that the full amount of clothing is provided. Mrs. Charles Bellows is chairman for the county and Mrs. Jesse Robertson is vice chairman.

In the past week the following garments have been brought in: Complete baby layette, made by Mrs. John Talloch of Barnard; petticoat by Mrs. Sam Craven of Harmony and two petticoats, two dresses, and two pairs of trousers, furnished by the Penelope club.

These garments are sent direct to New York, where they are forwarded to Europe. Miss Turner says that the need there is greater than the people know. Many new born babies in Europe have to be wrapped in newspapers for lack of proper clothing, a report shows.

Mrs. J. H. Degginger of Albany and Mrs. Wallace Applegate of Sedalia, arrived in Maryville last night for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bellows.

MISS ARMOUR TO MARRY

Lolita Armour, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ogden Armour of Chicago, and John J. Mitchell, Jr., who will be married on June 18. Both of them were active during the war. Mr. Mitchell being in the aviation service and sustaining injuries. The wedding will ultimately unite two of Chicago's great fortunes.

Consider Your Clothes

HAVE you ever stopped to think of the part petroleum plays in converting raw material into the fabrics which are used to make your suit of clothes? From the wool on a sheep's back to the clothes on your back is a long journey and petroleum shortens it at every step.

By machinery lubricated with petroleum, a man may shear from 175 to 200 fleeces a day. By the old method, 50 fleeces would be considered a big day's work.

After leaving the sheep, the wool passes through ten major processes before it is ready for the tailor. Each of these require the use of intricate machinery, having bearings which run at speeds varying from 350 to 12,000 revolutions per minute.

From the clipper to the last finishing machine, a diversity of mechanical conditions exist, each of which has been studied and experimented with, and a lubricant found which meets exactly the needs of the machinery.

In solving these lubricating problems, and manufacturing oils and greases which enable these machines to perform their work, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) always has been among the leaders.

Its staff of carefully trained chemists, refiners, and lubricating engineers are constantly at work, devising new and more efficient means of reducing friction.

This Company computes its success not wholly upon its balance sheets, not wholly upon the number of useful products it manufactures, but rather upon the fact that many of the useful products of petroleum are made from material which otherwise would be wasted, and are made by processes which were evolved in the Company's laboratories.

It never allows baking trouble. You don't "dread" to bake. There is nothing to worry about—and that really is the hardest part of it.

Mix up a batch of biscuits—or the finest kind of cake—it's all the same. There is never but one result—the sweetest and most palatable of foods.

There is not as much worry over baking costs either. Because Calumet costs less—when you buy it—the price is moderate.

"—the Kind Mother Uses!"

It costs you less when you use it—because you don't use as much of it—it has more than the ordinary leavening strength.

You get more out of the flour, sugar, eggs, shortening, etc., because there are no failures—no waste.

The most critical of baking powder judges gave it highest awards, World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago,—Paris Exposition, Paris, France.

The largest selling brand in the world.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

News from Over the State

Moberly, Mo., June 10.—Proprietors of moving pictures shows here will be prosecuted if they operate their places on Sunday, according to Prosecuting Attorney Redick O'Brien. Prosecutions will be made, O'Brien declared, regardless of what action the city council takes in the matter.

St. Louis, Mo., June 10.—Eleven members of the local police force late yesterday offered to give their blood for transfusion into Patrolman John Bohlen, who was wounded by Richard Miller, a paper hanger. Miller also was wounded and is in precarious condition at a hospital. Physicians believe he will die.

Poplar Bluff, June 10.—Citizens here are today voting to decide whether $18,000 in bonds shall be issued for the purpose of buying motorized equipment for the fire department and extending the water mains to Black River bridge. Business men have conducted an intensive campaign in favor of the bond issue and a heavy vote in favor of the propositions is expected.

St. Louis, June 10.—The St. Louis Star will resume the publication of a Sunday morning newspaper beginning June 26. The Star will be served by the Saturday night wire services of the International News Service, Universal Service, United Press and the Public Ledger Service, in addition to its special leased wire from Jefferson City, where the paper maintains a bureau.

St. Louis, June 10.—An organization for Junior Police is the plan of President Victor Miller of the Board of Police Commissioners for the elimination of temptation to young boys.

"I believe this plan will do a great deal toward reducing the number of recruits to the criminal courts," declared Miller today. "A Junior Police will enable us to deal in a new way with young men who spend their time in pool halls. The old system was for a policeman to enter such places and chase the youngsters home with clubs. The idea of the Junior Police is to point out the error of the way."

"The plan may not seem possible and my life will not be long enough to carry out the educational features that I desire, but I am going to start the ball rolling even if I don't know where it will end."

Compulsory voting is written into the Czechoslovak constitution. Every man and woman who is eligible to vote must do so or go to jail. As a result the will of the people is faithfully recorded.

APPLY FOR VACATION AT CAMP PIKE.

Kansas City, June 9.—Young Missourians desiring to attend the free physical training and athletic camp to be conducted by the government during August at Camp Pike, Ark., with all expenses paid, should send in their applications without delay.

Missouri's quota is four hundred. "The camp is open to those between the ages of 15 and 35," Col. John H. Parker, commandant at Jefferson Barracks, said here today. "However, we particularly want boys between the ages of 16 and 18. Our desire is to get boys without previous military experience—the younger brothers of the 'buddies.'"

Colonel Parker is here with Maj. Samuel T. Stewart for a conference with Irwin R. Kirkwood, in charge of the western district of Missouri, and local civic organizations. The two army officers have general supervision for Missouri. The local Chamber of Commerce has taken charge of receiving applications here.

Major Stewart spoke today at the different high schools in the city. The military officials are receiving the active co-operation of the American Legion, which advocated the citizen training camp idea at its national convention last year.

Colonel Parker explained today that the training at Camp Pike will be mostly physical training and athletics. Military training will, in fact, occupy only a very small part of the time. He said the main purpose of the citizen camps is for the physical development of the youth, and to break down the prejudice of the mothers and fathers against the army.

"The boys we want in these camps are those who need the out-of-door life as well as the boys who play on the football teams," Colonel Parker added. "We want the boys who need rebuilding. High school training is not necessary, as it is our desire to get a cross section of the youth of all classes in the state."

Address letter for application blanks to Irwin R. Kirkwood, chairman Western Missouri Citizens' Military Training Camps Commission, Chamber of Commerce, Kansas City, Mo.

Crankcase Lubrication Demonstrated.

A recent test showed that to prevent excessive engine wearing, crankcase oil should be changed at least every 1,500 miles, preferably every 1,000 miles. A new engine that was run 6,000 miles with oil changed at proper intervals, upon being disassembled showed no signs of wear. The same engine reassembled and run 3,000 miles with oil plus new oil as needed, upon inspection showed a wear of .0015 inches. Motor truck and passenger car manufacturers recommend that crankcases be drained every thousand miles, the engine flushed with kerosene and new oil added.

Notice to Stock Feeders

Maryville, Mo., May 12, 1921.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that there has been some Stock Powder agents traveling through this country, claiming that they straightened up 140 of my last fall shoats, with their powders.

This is a mistake, this kind of powder I fed was SUPERIOR STOCK POWDER. My hogs were in bad condition. I had capsuled them twice before I started feeding Superior Powder, and had lost twenty head.

After feeding Superior Powder, I did not lose another shoat. I have fed several kinds of powder and know SUPERIOR to be better and stronger than any I have ever fed. I have used four orders up to this time.

DEMAND MADE FOR GEN. MITCHELL'S RESIGNATION

Secretary of War Has Assumed Charge of the Inquiry to Ascertain the Causes.

Washington, June 10.—Controversy which threatens to "rip the air service wide open" is on in earnest today as a result of a demand made by Major General Charles Menoher, chief of the air service, that Brigadier General William Mitchell, his first assistant, be relieved of his duties. So serious is the row regarded that Secretary of War Weeks has assumed personal charge of the inquiry to ascertain the causes of General Menoher's action and the least that is expected from his investigation is general shake-up and realignment of the personnel. The row has been brewing for months back and is a long fought controversy over whether the air service shall be directed by flying officers or by officers of other arms—infantry or artillery, who may or may not be familiar with flying conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pierpoint of Wichita, Kan., who have been visiting relatives in this vicinity, will drive to their home today.

The name June is derived from Juno, a Roman divinity worshipped as the queen of heaven.

"The Master Workman", a toast to President Ira Richardson

This is the toast given by Mrs. A. T. Estes at the Alumni banquet last Tuesday night which reflects the sincere respect and devotion which graduates of the State Teachers' College feel for Dr. Ira Richardson, its retiring president:

Some years ago in the city of Manchester England, a great crowd was assembled to hear Gladstone, the English Premier. The day was exceedingly warm and the hall in which Mr. Gladstone was to speak was crowded almost to suffocation. An effort was made to open the windows in order to admit some fresh air, but the windows had not been made to open. Finally it was decided to break some of the windows near the ceiling of the room. Fearing that the crash of beaking glass might frighten some of the people in the dense crowd, the mayor of the city mounted the platform in front of the hall for the purpose of explaining what he was about to do. The people thought he intended making a speech and they did not want to hear him. They had assembled to hear Gladstone. When the mayor attempted to speak he was stopped with cries of "Gladstone, Gladstone," and he could not make himself heard. Three times he tried, but to no purpose. Finally he shouted "Friends! Listen! I am not going to make a speech; I have something to say."

So I, in giving this toast, have indeed something to say.

It is a fact that every step of progress that has been taken since the world began, has first been taken by some one man, or, at most, by a few men who have been distinguished above their fellows by a superior energy, or foresight, or inventive faculty. If we look over the chief events of history, we shall find that the men who caused them, who were the principal actors in them, were individuals and not the great mass of men. These men stand on the mountain tops; the masses are at the foot. Some one has said that genuine success is not a sudden out-burst of what men call genius, but is, rather, the result of continual, patient, commonplace toil. It is the result of energy put into action. It is the power utilized by THE MASTER WORKMAN.

What may a man who has ideals and the courage and energy to attempt their realization, accomplish?

In the archives in the Athenaeum at Hartford Connecticut, there is carefully preserved a small strip of poor paper that has a most wonderful interest for the thoughtful. To a casual observer it is nothing more than a single telegram sent to Baltimore from the Supreme Court Chamber at Washington, D. C., on May 24, 1844, by the daughter of the Commissioner of Patents. In telegraphic symbols, it reads "What hath God Wrought?" A bit of paper; yet it represents a marvelous story of disappointment, privation, toil, poverty, suffering, and the final triumph that revolutionized the business world. That little bit of paper is the first message ever sent over the electric telegraph. What made this achievement possible?

Years before, of all the hundreds who listened to lectures on electricity given by Prof. J. E. Dana, only one young man caught an inspiration which led to twelve years of struggle, always with his ideal before him. There were those who did not understand him, those who scorned and even laughed; there were refusals of assistance from friends, from the congress; there were difficulties and hindrances placed in the way by carping critics and jealous rivals. But through it all the MASTER WORKMAN toiled until his invention was the success that brought the thousands of years nearer.

The Master Workman!

The man, who, inspite of every hindrance, persists in working out his ideals and in doing those things that make life richer and this world a better place in which to live, without him, of what use the field or the implements of labor? It is he who looks ahead to the future, who sees the fruit already harvested, the results of the cultivation garnered.

He keeps ever before him the larger vision, the goal to be reached, the ideal to be realized.

The Master Workman!

Tireless in energy, fertile in resources, ingenious in development, fearless of criticism, determined to succeed. This is the man who, through thoughtful, patient endeavor, who through visions of greater and better things, has made our college what it is.

Thirty years ago there graduated from the High School in Mound City, Mo., a young man who was destined to do things. Already he had won for himself a high place in the esteem of his fellow students and of his friends. Altho he fully realized the truth of Euclid's reply to the Egyptian king, when the king was seeking an easier way to an education, that "there is no royal road to learning," yet he determined to prepare himself thoroughly for his life's work. This he did in the University of Missouri in Central College, at Fayette, Missouri and in Columbia College in New York City.

When he undertook the Presidency of the State Normal School at Maryville, he saw ahead of him the chance for a great piece of constructive work. He set his ideals high, and never, throughout the eight years that he has been President of the institution has he lost sight of them. The Normal has been changed to a college and has been placed in Class A of the North Central Association of College and Secondary Schools.

Departments have been strengthened, the curriculum has been broadened, and hours have been worked out leading to the B. S. and A. B. Degrees. Besides this, plans have been developed for a new athletic field a large appropriation has been secured for dormitories.

These have been many disappointments and discouragements; some criticism and opposition; many who did not understand, and who could not see the greater ideal for which he was working. Yet the President has labored on, through good report and evil report, not afraid of his work, striving to overcome every opposition and so to realize a great ideal for a great school.

One of the finest things about his work has been that, while he has ever kept the larger result to be obtained before him, he has not forgotten that he is working with human beings and he has never lost the personal touch, the human sympathy and kindness that has brought a blessing into many lives many closely associated with him have had the opportunity given them of broadening and deepening their own education. This, indeed, is the labor worthy of the MASTER WORKMAN whom I present to you in the person of Ira Richardson, President of Our College.
